

REMARKS

Attached hereto is the executed Reissue Declaration by the inventors. If there are any questions on this declaration the undersigned attorney would appreciate a telephone conference.

The Advisory Action noted the lack of English translation for the Electronic Journal issue of October 1998 and the Japanese Patent Publication No. 10-106441 which were cited as indicative of a level of ordinary skill at the time of the present invention. Accordingly, attached hereto are English translations of these respective documents.

The recent Alza Corporation v. Mylan Laboratories, Inc. et al. September 6, 2006 Federal Circuit decision (2006 U.S.U. App. Lexis 22616) noted that the knowledge of a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention is a form of evidence that is pertinent to the evaluation of a prima facie case of obviousness. That is, the contemporary opinions found in the submitted documents at the time of our invention date should assist in determining a level of ordinary skill at the time of our present invention in which to judge the present invention.

As noted in the MPEP §2144.05 (II)(B) a particular parameter must first be recognized as a result effective variable in the prior art before it can be considered as being obvious to a person of ordinary skill.

If there are any questions with regards to this matter the undersigned attorney would appreciate a telephone conference.

Very truly yours,

SNELL & WILMER L.L.P.
